

Ancient Greek

Consider these phrases in Ancient Greek (in a Roman-based transcription) and their unordered English translations:

- |                                   |  |
|-----------------------------------|--|
| (A) ho tōn hyiōn dulos     | _____ (1) the donkey of the masterō    |
| (B) hoi tōn dulōn cyrioi   | _____ (2) the brothers of the merchant |
| (C) hoi tu emporu adelphoi | _____ (3) the merchants of the donkeys |
| (D) hoi tōn onōn emporoi   | _____ (4) the sons of the masters      |
| (E) ho tu cyriu onos       | _____ (5) the slave of the sons        |
| (F) ho tu oicu cyrios      | _____ (6) the masters of the slaves    |
| (G) ho tōn adelphōn oicos  | _____ (7) the house of the brothers    |
| (H) hoi tōn cyriōn hyioi   | _____ (8) the master of the house      |

1. Match the Ancient Greek phrase (A-H) with the corresponding English translation (1-8).

2. Translate into Ancient Greek:

- a) the houses of the merchants

_____

- b) the donkeys of the slave.

_____

Note: the letter ō stands for a long o.